

Doctor Who and the Birth of Jesus

Narrator: One day when they didn't have any aliens to deal with the Doctor and Amy were thinking about a trip in the TARDIS.

Doctor: Well where do you fancy visiting next.

Amy: Hmm, I'm not sure... (pauses). Hey I know- its Christmas! Why don't we go and see the Baby Jesus being born.

Doctor: Right O. You want to go and see Jesus, then let's go see him! Get in the TARDIS ... Geronimo!

(TARDIS VWORPping noises)

Narrator: Stepping out of the TARDIS Amy seems surprised - this isn't quite what she was expecting.

Amy: I don't see a baby, or any shepherds ... And who is he? What a scruffy looking bloke!

Doctor: Jeremiah me old mate, great to see you. Listen up Amy – he's a prophet.

Jeremiah: The LORD said “I promise that the time will come when I will appoint a king from the family of David, a king who will be honest and rule with justice.”

Amy: What's he talking about? It's got nothing to do with the baby Jesus!

Doctor: Well, Actually, my friend Jeremiah was just talking about him. Didn't you hear? The king who would be honest and rule with justice. That's Jesus.

Doctor: Anyway, I think we'd better get back in the TARDIS. Geronimo.

(TARDIS VWORPping noises)

Narrator: As Amy and the Doctor get out of the TARDIS Amy is shocked to see a scene of crucifixion.

Amy: I don't see a baby. In fact I'm quite shocked. This is horrible.

Doctor: It's him you know - on the cross. Jesus.

Amy: The baby Jesus?

Doctor: Well its him when he grew up.

Amy: Now I am shocked. Is he going to be OK- do we need to rescue him?

Doctor: He will be OK – not today, but soon. Don't you know about Easter?

Narrator: As sometimes happens the Doctor wonders about things that Amy doesn't know - maybe its something to do with that crack in her wall, or maybe she just never went to Sunday Club!

Doctor: Back in the TARDIS. Time to see the baby Jesus. I'll tell you about Easter on the way.

(TARDIS VWORPping noises)

Narrator: The Doctor and Amy step out of the TARDIS again, and at last they see Mary and Joseph and the baby Jesus in the manger.

Amy: So that's him then, in the manger, the baby we've been looking for?

Doctor: Yep!

Amy: So the King from the prophecy, that was this baby?

Doctor: You got it!

Amy: And that guy on the Cross, that was also this baby?

Doctor: Absolutely!

Amy: You know what? I thought I was coming to see a baby... but I've found so much more.
